Cholera In Orient

Epidemic Is Reaching Alarming Proportions in the Far East.

Appalling Loss of Life in Proportion to the Number of Cases.

Typhoons and Floods Do Great Damage in China and Japan.

The epidemic of cholera is reaching alarming proportions on the other side of the Pacific, the outbreak extending further and having more victims than ever before reported. It extends from the Island of Java to Japan, and almost every city on the Coast, and many in the interior are affected. The disease too is being contracted by Europeans as well as natives. In Hongkong from the first of the outbreak to August 6 there had been 523 cases, six of the patients being Europeans, and 511 deaths, of whom four were Europeans. In Tientsin the last official report placed the number of cases for the year at 1,049 and deaths 704 within the city walls, and 1,015 and 593 deaths outside the city walls. In other places in China the proportion of cases and deaths is just as great; a despatch says hundreds have died in Java. A writer from Kuching, Kwangsi province, says: "I write from a city stricken with a violent epidemic of cholera. The people are dying by hundreds daily. Outside the city over a thousand have died. Whole families are reported to have died. The beggars are by this time extinct. Among such people can have no surplus. They are to be seen dying everywhere, and numbers more are put out to die. The top of the wall is a favorite place for such, as is also the King City Square in front of the examination halls. There any numbers can be seen in all stages, dying and dead. It is most pitiable to see and to be powerless to do anything to help. The supply of coffins has long since been exhausted. Now all the tubs and buckets are used, and the carpenters are making any sort of coffin to try to meet the great demand. But still this is not enough, for I hear that numbers are being buried merely crumpled up in matting, often two and three together." A despatch from Java says hundreds have died there. The Japan papers publish no statistics of the cases in that country, but here is a sample report, which shows how prevalent the disease is:

"Reports from cholera-stricken towns grow more serious. Ninety new cases and 23 deaths were reported from Okayama yesterday. Today's despatches state that there were 19 new cases and 32 deaths there on Sunday. Six cases are reported from Osaka today. The total number of cases there up to the present is given as 48, of which 30 have been Asiatic cholera. Two cases are reported from Kioto today. The cases at Takumatsu exceeded 30 on the 10th. A telegram says the residents are panic-stricken."

In Okayama the disease is very bad. The total number of cases in the week ending the 4th inst. was 202 out of which 133 deaths occurred. There were 70 new cases on the 3rd and 25 deaths occurred on the same day.

Dysentery threatens to spread to Nagoya and the neighborhood. The total number of cases on the 31st of last week in Nagoya and 157 in the surrounding district. The number of cases since the first outbreak this year up to the same day was 400, of which 56 cases have proved fatal.

American engineers are in Shanghai preparing for an early start on the construction of the Canton-Hankow railway, for which an American syndicate has a concession.

The Universal Gazette states that the attempt on the part of Great Britain and the United States to make the Foreign powers receive the Chinese indemnity on a silver basis has proved a failure, and that, therefore, Chinese has to pay her indemnity on a gold basis.

Little news is being received of the rebellion in Kwangsi, as the wires have been cut in the vicinity of Nanning. It is said the rebels have their headquarters at Hsiung and Hsiin. Hsiung is a place near the border of Kweichow province, while Hsiin is situated not far from the border of Yunnan. Victor Liu of Yunnan has suggested that a strong force, consisting of soldiers from the three provinces, Kwangsi, Yunnan and Kweichow, should be sent against the rebels without loss of time. He further said that it was not advisable to employ the Kwangsi troops alone in the work of pacification, because these troops could easily be bought over to the rebel ranks.

In New Hsin, Lo Ping, Yung Kong, and places have started a fresh rebellion, and Wong Sung, the late magistrate of Sun Tak, is ordered to take command of three battalions of soldiers to fight them.

According to a telegram from Changsha, anti-Christian disturbances have broken out in the prefecture of Sung-chow, Hunan province, resulting in the destruction of a chapel.

A coroner's jury, assisted by medical evidence, have arrived at the conclusion that the 13 boys, sons of missionaries and European merchants, who died suddenly at the China Inland Mission school, were not poisoned, but that they died of cholera.

It is said that the order for Wu Ting-fang, to remain at Washington was issued at the suggestion of Vice-governor Shih-kai, who memorialized the Throne, saying that since the appointment of Wu Ting-fang to the said ministry, he had done many things to the detriment of the country, and in his opinion, no other official was better qualified for the post, and that therefore, he strongly recommends that Wu be given another term of ministerialship.

A pathetic story comes from Manila. Miss Jeanette Williams, M. D., of Colorado university, arrived there last month to wed Mr. Rudolf Ramstein, a teacher in Laguna province, who died suddenly at the China Inland Mission school, and as he was ill it was decided to have the wedding at 8 o'clock, instead of 2 in the afternoon, the hour originally set. They were duly married, but at 1 o'clock Ramstein succumbed to cholera.

A Singapore telegram of July 30 to the China Mail says: A collision occurred in the Straits of Malacca yesterday morning between the Dutch mail steamer Prins Alexander and the British steamer Ban Hin Guan. The Prins Alexander sank, and the chief officer, first engineer, and 90 of the passengers and crew were drowned. Twenty persons, including the captain, were saved by the Ban

Hin Guan. The Ban Hin Guan, which was badly damaged, was towed into Singapore and beached.

Storms and floods visited China and Japan during July, and the early part of August. On July 18 a typhoon struck Hongkong, causing the wreck of junks and sampans, resulting in the death of a number of men. Several houses were also wrecked and 11 persons killed. On August 6 another typhoon came along and besides doing damage to the mosquito fleet blew down several houses, and in one case 12 persons were killed. At Kobe and along the southern coast of Japan on the 12th inst. considerable damage was done by heavy wind and rain, small boats being wrecked and crops badly damaged. The greatest damage was done, however, by floods along the West river. Several villages were entirely swept away, many lost their lives and thousands were rendered homeless. The water in many places reached the roofs of the houses.

The man asked if he had bought a ticket, and on receiving a negative answer, offered for $1 to put the harvester in a Spokane freight car, thus saving fare. Nelson accepted, and walked with the leader of the two men to his death. Nelson was fastened in the car and spread his blankets on the floor to sleep. A few minutes later a man crawled through a high end door, covered Nelson with a gun and ordered "Hands up." The harvester declined and a 38-caliber bullet pierced his intestines, hitting them in two places. As he lay writhing the thing cooly took $15 and a watch from his pockets and crawled out. THE MINERAL TAX.

It looks remarkable that of all the people who have attacked the two per cent. mineral tax, not one has suggested any alternative which would lighten the burden upon low-grade ores without diminishing the revenue derived from the mines. One authority we have heard of, suggested a return to the system of assessed value as a basis of taxation. This would tax mines which are too low grade to pay at all, but which are nevertheless considered valuable by their owners against the time of cheaper mining and treatment, or better prices for the metals. We wonder how the chief owners of the St. Eugene mine, who are also the chief owners of the War Eagle and Centre Star mines, would like that? Suppose an endeavor is made to tax only net profits, what is to be done with mines which are being supplied with capital out of their net profits, and by what means would the amounts sunk in capital expenditure, and the normal expenditure, on dead work, which should be properly charged against revenue, be kept separate? If you exempt a fixed sum per ton for mining and raising ore, as freight and treatment are already exempted, would the incidence of taxation be equal for mines where the ore cost $1.50 a ton to break, as compared with mines where it cost $3 and others where it cost $12 or $15? If, on the other hand, dividends were taxed, then the badly managed mine paying no dividends would escape, and the well managed mine come under a heavier burden. The mine adequately supplied with working capital would also pay, while the mine unsupplied with working capital would escape. One newspaper in the Upper Country politely suggests that we know nothing about the subject of mine taxation, and should therefore not discuss it. That is as may be. But we do know that the subject bristles with difficulties, and that the general consensus of scientific opinion is in favor of just such a tax as British Columbia imposes, without the exemption of freight and treatment charges, however, and with an assessment levy upon surface works. The state is entitled to a percentage of all the wealth either brought into or produced in a country, for the purposes of government, and that without any reference to whether a profit is made by anybody in the process or not; and also to a rental upon the fixed capital in the country, for the same purposes. Such a method of taxation applied to mines would, we believe, be the fairest in the long run, because in order to raise the necessary revenue the rate of taxation would be very light, and its burden more widely diffused. However, let us examine the main contention of those who object to the present tax. They say that the two per cent. tax levied against the cost of breaking and hoisting the ore, sometimes absorbs, or might absorb, twenty per cent. of the profit in mining it. Consider an ore which costs $12 a ton to break and hoist. The tax would be 24 cents, which is 20 per cent. of $1.20. If there is any ore of this character in the province, there are other excellent reasons why it should not be worked on a profit margin of $1.20. Consider an ore costing $9 to break and hoist. Here the profit margin would be 60 cents. Consider an ore costing $3 (something approaching actuality more closely for a low-grade ore). Here the profit margin would be 30 cents, before the tax could absorb 20 per cent. of it, and with ore costing $1.50, 15 cents. We venture to say that not one of these cases we have mentioned are business propositions from a mining point of view. A theoretical inequality in the mineral tax there certainly is, but a practical hardship has not yet been demonstrated. Unless it exists here, that mines which are struggling along on the margin between profit and loss pay the tax, while mines which have been closed down and are waiting for better days, do not. But, if this is a hardship, then the point is not that profits should pay the taxes, but that successfully earned profits should not pay the taxes, any more than wealth which has gone in some other direction. So that objections to the mineral tax are either wrong in their premises or wrong in their conclusions. Our own impression is that if they would change their premises, they would find more sympathy against the present method of levy, and also a practical way out of the difficulty which now exists.

THE LEAD TRUST.

The position of affairs in the United States lead market which has been brought about through the formation of the Lead Trust as it may be called, is nothing short of extraordinary. Here we have a metal which, in one or other of its forms, is almost the most extensively used in different kinds of manufactures. It is a metal of which the United States produces, or can produce, inexhaustible quantities, and which it has also been accustomed to import in a crude state from British Columbia and Mexico. The natural result of such conditions would be that the price of lead would be governed simply by the cost of producing it. As this has been greatly reduced in the United States through improvements in mining, concentrating and smelting machinery, we would naturally suppose that the United States would become the world's supply centre for lead, and that a great export trade in the metal itself and its various products would be developed. This process as soon as it became effective was checked by combination, and the price of lead has been steadily maintained at a level greatly above its export price, and greatly above its cost of production under favorable circumstances, to which the competition of producers would have reduced it. A more complete illustration of interference with the law of competition was never seen than in the price of lead in the United States at the present time. The methods by which this result was achieved were two. First, all the smelters and refineries were amalgamated and the Mexican and British Columbia mines were barred out of the United States market altogether. If the smelters of the United States would take our lead at all, it would, at the present New York price, net our mine-owners two cents a pound in spite of the duty on ore, whereas the best they can do is from 1.30 to 1.40 cents a pound. Second, all the main producers in the United States were bound down only to produce as much lead as the trust was willing to buy, in consideration of receiving a high price for their restricted output. The question which at once arises is whether such a condition of affairs is permanent, and the answer to that question is a most emphatic negative. The law of competition, interfered with in one direction, has an awkward habit of asserting itself in another. Let us suppose that if the market had been left alone, only 40 per cent. ore would at the present time be profitable to work. It looks all right that the miner of 40 per cent. ore should restrict his output and receive an equivalent profit in the higher price obtainable. But that higher price renders 30 per cent. or 20 per cent. ore profitable, and the trust and the mine-owner are obliged to let the miner of 30 and 20 per cent. ore in for his share of the booty. In other words, they are all the time subjected to the competition of lower grade mines, which, were the price allowed to vary in response to supply and demand, would not be operative against them at all, except during an exceptional demand. It might, therefore, have been predicted with certainty when the trust was formed, that the market conditions produced in the United States by the Lead Trust could not be permanently maintained. As long as a trust's funds hold out, it may divorce the price of a commodity from the law of supply and demand, but eventually it will find itself with an immense stock on hand and no more money to support the market. There are abundant evidences that this is going to be the end of the Lead Trust in the United States. It is finding itself less and less able to pay the producer his pro rata of the fictitious price, and more and more obliged in order to maintain the price against the consumer, to lower it against the producer. Naturally the mine-owner objects. The mine-owners of the Coeur d'Alene, a district which produces 48 per cent. of the lead produced in the United States, are already contemplating breaking away from the Trust. If they do, the price of lead in the United States will fall with a thud. If they do not, the trust will have to give them better terms, a course which will make it increasingly difficult to carry the accumulating stock of the metal. Whatever happens, if we read the signs of the times correctly, the game is very nearly up with the manipulators of the price of lead in the United States. A time is coming when the British Columbia silver lead mining regions will be glad they were not in the circle of inflation. Their exclusion has really been a blessing in disguise, although we are willing to admit that the disguise was tolerably complete. Still, there is this to be said to those mine-owners who are grieving to be excluded from the United States market, that it has been the very fact of their exclusion, and the exclusion of the Mexicans, which enabled the price there to be so maintained as to make the market worth getting into. If this province had been permitted to produce all the lead it could at a price to the consumer of 4 cents a pound, even with the duty on ore off, the market at the present time would be in even a more explosive condition than it is, and the subsequent reaction after the inevitable catastrophic more disastrous.

The corn crop of the United States will be 100,000,000 bushels larger this year than last.

About 60,000,000 young salmon will be turned into the Columbia river this year from the hatcheries.

Ralph Smith lost no time in reaching the scene of action. "When the cat comes back?" But how is it when the cat comes back?

Exports of iron and steel from the United States in 1901-2 fell 1,125,987 tons, in the previous year to 496,510 tons. Imports increased from 164,317 tons to 459,893 tons.

If we put the wheat crop of Manitoba at 60,000,000 bushels, they represent a tonnage of 1,800,000 tons. One million eight hundred thousand tons will require 30,000 20-ton cars to remove the freight, or 2,250 trains of 20 cars each, or 10 trains per day for 225 days. This looks remarkable, but two little towns in British Columbia, Rossland and Phoenix, move ore per annum equal in weight to very nearly one-half of the weight of the entire Manitoba wheat crop.

PRESS COMMENTS:

Before the Manufacturers' Association in Halifax, H. B. Crossdale of the Hall Mines smelter represented that the lead mine owners wanted a duty of one cent a pound placed on lead in one, and one and one-half cents on manufactured lead. In making these representations, Mr. Crossdale was not holding out for a duty, but if he had said that the Hall smelter and the Trail Creek smelter want a tariff placed on lead in one, and one and one-half cents on manufactured lead, he would have been precisely correct. But in stating that the mine owners wanted a tariff of any kind he made an entirely unauthorized and unwarranted statement. Crossdale is a smelterman, not a mine owner, and he stands between the lead producer and his market. His interests and the mine owners' interests are radically different. In speaking for the mine owners he took an unwarranted liberty. The mine owners do not now ask and have never asked for a tariff. Just so long as there is a surplus for export the price paid for raw lead will be based on the export price, and no tariff can be devised to help the producer. What the mine owner wants and what he must have is a large reduction or a complete abolition of the tariff which makes the dynamite monopoly possible and makes all other mining supplies and machinery cost an exorbitant price. We intend to go into this matter more deeply later on.—Sandson Paystrom.

DELTA GRAIN.

From Delta News.
At Harry Burr's farm on Crescent Island, it is worth going a considerable distance to gaze upon his oat crop. He has a field of about eight acres in which the grain stands up a splendid shape and is about seven feet in height. It is a new kind of oat for this section, only being recently tried. It was brought out from the old country a couple of years ago, and is called the Tartan King variety. From last year's experience it will average two tons to the acre.

GAVE JOY TO HIS FRIENDS.

The genial John S. King, mathematician, linguist, Egyptologist, and man of many accomplishments, was one day dining with some of his business associates. He gave the waiter his order for a portion of calf's head vinaigrette. This started a discussion among those present as to whether the gelatinous stuff which usually came from the carving table with cannibals' heads, was not a part of a portion of a nostril was not to their liking.

"Well," said King, to the great and enduring amusement of his companions, "I like it much myself at first but now I find that calf's head is growing on me."—New York Times.

AN EXPERT
FRUIT PACKER

Fruit Growers Go to School to Learn Modern Methods.

The British Columbia Fruit Growers' association have secured the services of Mr. W. T. Jenks, of Salem, Oregon, an expert in all matters relating to fruit, to give the fruit growers of the province practical instruction in the most approved methods of packing fruit for market.

Mr. Jenks is now making a tour of the province, giving practical demonstrations of the art of packing fruit. He has visited the Okanagan and other interior districts and arrived in Victoria last Friday. On Saturday he visited Duncan, where he met a number of fruit growers and gave them practical instructions in handling and packing fruit. On Monday he lectured at Sidney. Tuesday at Cedar Hill, today he will visit Nanaimo, and Saturday Gauges Harbor. Next week he will visit the principal fruit districts of the Lower Fraser.

Mr. Jenks says the finest apples he has seen in the province are those grown by Mr. Grant, Victoria district. Many of the orchards visited by Mr. Jenks are remarkably well kept, but others, which are in need of attention, are not so well cared for, rendering it impossible for them to produce first-class fruit. With proper care of the trees and careful cultivation, Mr. Jenks says the Victoria district should be able to produce a quality of apples and other fruit as any portion of the province.

TO CANCEL OPTION.

Action Brought by A. D. Sheppard Against E. & N. Ry. Co.

Mr. A. D. Sheppard, the local representative of the Pacific Improvement company, the minority shareholder in the E. & N. railway, has brought an action against the railway company and Mr. King, for the cancellation of an option, given by the company to Mr. King, on some timber lands. The contention is that the option is invalid and was given in defiance of the wishes of the shareholders. The statement of claim says: "The plaintiff, who sues as well for himself as on behalf of all the shareholders of the E. & N. Railway company, claims a declaration that a certain instrument in writing purporting to be an option for the sale of certain timber lands from the defendant company to the defendant King, dated the 11th day of August, 1902, and purporting to be executed on behalf of the defendant company, is invalid, and for an order that same should be delivered up to be cancelled, and for an injunction restraining the defendants and each of them, their officers and agents, from acting in any way in pursuance of the terms of the said alleged option."

ADVERTISING CANADA.

Some Means Taken to Educate People in Britain.

The Dominion of Canada is being made known by the aid of devices which would have been thought wholly unnecessary ten years ago. First of all, there was Lord Strathcona, the Canadian, a kind of pioneer work in the education of the young in the English schools. There were lectures, to be sure, and slides and the usual sort of advertising, but Lord Strathcona, the Canadian, was the interesting young in the public schools in the story and the scenery of Canada means at once of the printing press and the arts. And so His Lordship had stories written about him, and photographs taken, with the result that in the public schools for the first time there were lessons which required an intimate knowledge of Canada. This might have been made far more interesting by the pictures and the actual figures in colors were a strong provocation, and the charm worked. In a short time Canada was upon every lip, and the sending out of British journalists to receive illumination is the one of the fruits of the wonderful enterprise with which the name of Lord Strathcona will always be associated.

Following upon the heels of the journalists (it is true, the first of them, in the matter), the Warwick Trading company, of London, England, has sent out a number of representatives for the purpose of obtaining a series of pictures of the country, which shall illustrate at once the agricultural interests and the large and strenuous centres where life is lived pretty much as it is lived in England.

The British journalists (who are, by the way, mostly Scotch) have followed, as highly pleased with all they saw in the East, and the managers of the Warwick Trading company said they had never entered a country which promised so much.

As Mr. George Ham, of the C. P. R., said today, between them all, Canada will no doubt derive benefit. The gentlemen of the press will do their duty, although their enthusiasm will be dulled before they are through with their trip, while the photographic men will at every turn be serving the interests of the country; so between the two agencies there is every likelihood that the Dominion will be the gain.

DOUGLAS GARDENS.

Splendid Pictures Being Shown—Season Closes Saturday Evening.

The attendance at the Douglas gardens last evening was greatly in excess of any evening this week, the merit of the entertainment becoming more generally known among Victorians. The pictures being shown this week are of more than ordinary merit especially the "Crayon Artist," "The Haunted Castle" and "The Photographer's Mishap." This latter film is a study in photographic art, and is no doubt one of the greatest life motion pictures ever presented here. Mr. Hager, the operator for the Vitaphone company, says that he has taken many moving pictures, but he considers the "Photographer's Mishap" his masterpiece. The idea is original with Mr. Hager, and was rehearsed for a number of days, being finally photographed on what is known as the Coast road of the Southern Pacific railway, a special train being used for the purpose. This film has been shown all over the Eastern cities and has been pronounced by experts a marvel in photographic trickery. Mr. Hager is a resident of one of the finest photographers in the moving picture line. He began his career some years ago with the Warwick Trading company, of London, England.

Mr. Leroy was in good voice last evening, and both his songs were excellently rendered. The illustrations to the songs were more pictures will be shown, chief among which is a 300-foot film showing scenes and incidents from the out-famous Dreyfus trial. This is the last week to enjoy these concerts, as the gardens will close with next Saturday evening's concert. The following programme has been arranged for this evening:

- PART I.
1. March—Up the street Morse
2. Overture—Banditenstreiche Suppe
3. Popular Melange—The Rag-Tag-Boogie Flinn
(Showing new moving pictures.)
4. The Modern Vitaphone, including a reel of the latest motion pictures.
Intermission of Ten Minutes.
PART II.
5. Frank Leroy, singing illustrated songs.
6. For Old Time's Sake Harris
7. Better Than Gold Hads
(Illustrated by Vitaphone.)
8. Waltzes—Sounds from Erin Bennett
9. The Great Vitaphone.
(Showing new moving pictures.)
10. Deux Tons—Hurdy Gurdy Penn
God Save the King.

W. C. T. U. GARDEN PARTY.
Pleasant Reunion at Douglas Gardens in Aid of Temperance Funds.

A garden party and sale of work in aid of the funds of the Woman's Christian Temperance union was held at the Douglas gardens yesterday afternoon and evening. The event was marked by the presence of His Worship Mayor Hayward, who in a few appropriate sentences declared the fête open, and wished the ladies all success in their work. Mrs. Rutherford, president of the union in Canada, addressed her co-workers and others present, and dwelt shortly on the salient features of the work. At the conclusion of Mrs. Rutherford's remarks, the Bishop of Victoria pronounced a benediction, and work of the afternoon was soon in full swing.

A few stalls for the sale of fancy work were in evidence, and were well patronized. Ice cream and the usual refreshments were also on the programme at a stipulated price. There was a fairly good attendance during the afternoon and during the evening the usual crowds assembled to listen to the band and view the merry pictures. The special item last evening was the solo "The Sacred City" sung by Mr. Frank Leroy, which was loudly encored.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One dose, small price. Small dose. Small price.

"WHAT HO!"
A cigar in his mouth, and a glass in his eye.
A swagging young man was hurrying by
On Government street.

He glanced in the window of seventy-nine. To see that his glance was not in a line
With his ear.
But that idle glances sideways made him forget
Everything else, but what his eyes met.
In that window.

Things that he saw there made his eyes shine
With a look that said plainly, "By jove, how fine
Are C. and C.'s goods!"

Passersby wondered what was up with the man,
Whose coat tails they saw disappear as he ran,
Into the shop.

Down to seventy-nine now do take a walk,
And you'll never regret having taken that stalk.
Tis to smokers and bachelors I give this advice,
For C. and C.'s goods are the lowest in price.
In the city.

THE ARGONAUTS.

Toronto Crew Quite Ready to Row the Yanks.

The recent despatches, which state that the Vespers, of Philadelphia, openly charge the British crew with having remained away from the United States championship regatta, held at Worcester, last week, because of a "stomach ailment for a meeting," are not entirely attributed to the members of the Vespers. It is more than probable that some over-enthusiastic friends of the Vespers have been accountable for such a statement, as it was known full well that the Philadelphia crewmen that the Argos made every effort to be present at Worcester, even although they had only returned from England ten days before the regatta at that place.

It is understood that the captain of the Argonauts wrote to the captain of the Vespers, and also to a prominent member of the National association, resident in Philadelphia, offering to race an eight-oared race over the Schuylkill championship course at Philadelphia, between September 15 and 20, for a trophy of honor, to which race the Pennsylvania Barge club, and any others who care to encounter, should be admitted. The Argos must be notified prior to the 24th or 25th inst., as it will take at least three weeks to get men into training who have been out of their boat for the greater part of five weeks.

The Argos offered a two-hundred-dollar trophy to the Vespers, or any other, who cared to come to Toronto last June, prior to the sailing of the Canadian crew for Henley, but though the Vespers at first talked of coming over, the venture was eventually abandoned, and the Argos sailed for England with a clean sheet over all America.

If the Vespers really do think that the Argos do not care to meet them, they have only to say so, and make a reasonable proposition in time, before the football season opens, and the Argos will journey to the Schuylkill course to look for a race.

A proposed four-oared race with Winnipeg, in that city, has apparently fallen through, because of the absence of one or more members of the latter crew from home, and this matter leaves the Argonauts free for two or three weeks to devote to eight-oared rowing, if called upon.

CONSTIPATION!

THE MOST FREQUENT CAUSE OF SUFFERING AND SERIOUS BODILY DERANGEMENT IS CURED BY

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Irregularity of the bowels and sluggish action of the kidneys and liver are the most frequent causes of the painful and fatal diseases known to mankind. Bright's disease, appendicitis, dropsy and various forms of kidney disease, for example, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills begin by setting the bowels right. Their combined action on the filtering and excretory organs enables them to enter when other medicines fail.

(Mr. Jas. H. Harvey, baker, 611 George street, Peterboro, Ont., states:—"I was troubled very much with constipation and pains in the back. At times the pains were sharp like a stab with a knife and caused me great suffering. I heard of many being cured by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and decided to try them. I am pleased to say that they soon helped me, and I used them right along until cured. I never have pains in my back now and only occasionally pay a little in order to keep my bowels regular."

Point Ellice Substructure

City Board of Works Receive Engineer's Estimates For the Foundations.

Piers and Abutments Faced With Granite to Cost About $37,000.

The Streets, Sewers and Bridges committee of the council sat yesterday afternoon to consider a few matters and prepare others for formal presentation to the weekly sitting of the council. Being "in committee" several things happen—names are not recorded on votes, and every individual speaks as often as he likes, which in the main is a very gratifying thing; and then having the wherewithall they may smoke, and it is on record that reporters too have the indulgence of the Mayor as they sit in this phase of the work. However, in spite of its informality the meeting of the council in committee is the means of getting through much of the rough work of the city engineer, and yesterday was no exception to the rule.

The first piece of business was the report of the city engineer, which was read at last Monday night's meeting, and which appeared in these columns yesterday. As will be remembered, this report with a pleasant acquiescence which must have been reassuring to the expectant parties whose requests were considered, recommended the construction of some four or five items of highly important work to be carried out, entailing an outlay of between $5,000 and $6,000. The aldermen, notwithstanding that each and every one of them had been asked to contribute for the time being at least foredoomed to disappointment, approached the matter with due attention, and the engineer was asked many questions, which in results, many of them, Alderman Cameron, the civic minister of finance, arose and pointed out the fact known to all his fellow aldermen, that only a small appropriation had been set aside for the purpose of carrying out the next four months, and that it had been decided that unless it were for some emergency case all further demands for new work would be laid over until the spring of the coming year, when the "taxes" "came in good," but not till then. Under these circumstances he made a motion, which was carried, that these matters be stuck on the corporation's big file, and the committee passed on to the next.

This was a verbal report from Engineer Topp, who stated that he had not work on the sewer construction had about finished one job, and if any more work was to be done he would like the council to indicate this, so that no time would be lost in carrying out the sewer work. This was a sum of $1,500 in sewers recent account still unexpended, and it would be best to carry out such work with amount as would bring in the greatest return for the money. The sewer at Chatham street, between Douglas and Blanchard, for one piece of work, which would cost about $750, and would serve 20 houses.

It was not until the council had decided to start on the sewer asked for by Mr. Marshall at Upper Pandora street, as it would be necessary to excavate to a depth of 30 feet at one place, and this would cost about $1,500, and that his idea was to connect this combined surface drain and sewer with the 12-inch pipe now laid on Johnson street.

It was suggested that the balance of the money be spent in carrying the sewer up Queen's avenue from Douglas to Blanchard, which would reach 8 or 10 houses and would probably assist the building up of the Phillips estate, which has been subdivided, and was approved to be sold. This met with the approval of the majority, and it was resolved to spend the money on Chatham street and Queen's avenue.

Mr. Hargrave's recommendation records and plans of the foreshore at Dallas road and Ross bay was the next matter to receive attention. This had been sent to the city engineer to secure an estimate as to what the investigation would cost. Mr. Topp reported that he had seen Mr. Hargrave, and it was estimated that $150 would represent the cost. The work was authorized to secure Mr. Hargrave's assistance, and have the work done.

The engineer and city purchasing agent's report on the tenders for the construction of the new bridge over the Point Ellice bridge, was taken up, and having the plans, etc. before them, the committee went into the subject in order to recommend to the council which tender to accept. There were two tenders, one in cast iron and the other in wrought iron. In all 165 feet will be required, which will form the handrails at the steps to be built at either end of the causeway. For cast iron the price was $1,488; for wrought iron, $1,300.75. As the design for the wrought iron railing was the better looking, it was decided to recommend the acceptance of the wrought iron.

Some discussion arose as to the contract for supplying stone to the James Bay work and the Point Ellice bridge. Of the 4,000 tons of sandstone contracted to be used for the bridge, 2,000 tons had been taken; the reason being that concrete had been largely substituted therefor. This Mr. Topp explained he had been able to do owing to the fact that the concrete foundation was much harder than had been shown by the borings.

The piers for the new Point Ellice bridge and what they are to be built was then taken up. Mr. Topp reported that it would be economy to decide as to the nature of stone to be used before the quarries closed down. He submitted three estimates of the cost of the substructure for the bridge, and explained that in all three provisions had been made for wing walls, or abutments at both ends of the bridge in place of the earth embankments, which had been shown in the original design. This would add $4,000 to the estimate previously made. The following are the present estimates:

Concrete foundations, sandstone filling and facing with granite ashlar, $35,478.

All concrete piers and abutments, $36,942.

Concrete and granite ashlar piers, $37,218.

Some time was spent in discussing the merits of the different plans, but all present were unanimous that nothing but granite should be used in facing the bridge piers, and the concrete should be left over until the whole council had had an opportunity to look into the subject. A resolution on these lines was passed and the meeting adjourned.

ST. ANNE'S ACADEMY.

Re-opening of Local Institution in Charge of Sisters of St. Anne.

St. Anne's academy re-opened for the new term on Tuesday, but the real work will not, it is expected, commence until the first of the coming month, as comparatively few of the pupils have been enrolled. However, a large addition to the number of pupils at the close of the last term is expected, not only from Victoria, but from Vancouver and other cities of the interior. The academy has entered the academy from the Terminal City, but the seeming objection to so doing has of late been overcome, and the pupils from that city is steadily growing larger and larger each term.

PEG'S SECRET.

When back I gaily come from town, And bring guests one or many, My Peggy wears no puzzled frown, Nor seems her worries any;

But smiling to the pantry hies, And through there may be lack of pie, There is no lack of courses.

The soup is clear, with such a zest; The fish and meat—oh, how they're dished! That oft will ask the wondering guest, The secret of the flavors.

Then Peg retorts with pleased glance, "Fried sole or kippered herrings, Just add to aught you would enhance A dash of LEA and PEPPER'S."

Puebla Was Not Detained

Case on Board Proved to Be One of Chickenpox Only.

German Ship Silo, Previously Reported in Trouble, Towed to Nagasaki.

The San Francisco liner City of Puebla, which, as stated in the Colonist, was reported by Dr. Watt, superintendent of quarantine, on Tuesday night on account of there being a suspicious case on board, did not have to go to quarantine yesterday morning. After consultation with Dr. R. L. Fraser, port doctor, Dr. Watt arrived at the conclusion that the patient, a child of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fraser, Vancouver passengers, was suffering from chickenpox. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser and child, who are on their way to England from Australia, and could not have proceeded on their journey, were taken to the quarantine hospital at William Head, where the child is being treated, and the steamer was released. She came into the outer dock yesterday morning, and after landing her Victoria and Vancouver freight and passengers, proceeded to the Sound early in the afternoon. The Puebla had a large number of passengers and the usual full cargo of miscellaneous freight.

The South-bound San Francisco liner Unatilla sailed last night from the outer dock. She had as cabin passengers from Victoria the following: A. R. Fletcher, John Silver, J. Sweeney, Mrs. A. J. Macdonald, Miss G. Macdonald, Mrs. E. Kirkman, Mrs. E. E. Olding, J. C. Crozier and wife, Mrs. R. Knaton, Helen Knaton, Mrs. A. Knaton, Mrs. F. O. Fisher, Mrs. A. Knaton, A. Westerdale, W. A. OLDEST SHIP IN THE WORLD.

Built in 1548, She Completed Last Voyage This Year.

What is stated to be the oldest ship in the world has been sold at Tenerife to be broken up. This is the Italian ship Anita, registered at the port of Genoa. The Anita, which resembles Christopher Columbus' ship, the Santa Maria, was built in Genoa in 1548, and effected her last voyage at the end of March, 1902, from Naples to Tenerife. The Anita was of tremendous staid build, and carried a most formidable armament in all parts of the world, but she was also the slowest ship afloat.

SILVER REACHES PORT.

Disabled German Ship Was Towed Into Nagasaki.

Advices from Nagasaki under date of August 21 state that the German ship Silo, from Table Bay for Victoria and Vancouver, previously reported, was towed into Nagasaki on the date in question, badly damaged and partially dismantled. The Silo was reported by the steamer Lindenhall, which vessel sighted her during a typhoon. So bad did the strum become after the vessels left the coast, that the master of the Lindenhall reported on arrival at Nagasaki that he did not think the Silo could have weathered the gale. The Lindenhall is still lying at Nagasaki, according to latest reports.

BUSINESS.

Many Passengers Will Come From Dawson on the Last Steamers.

For the next month there will be a heavy travel both to and from Dawson, for the end of September will see the season of navigation on the Upper Yukon drawing to a close. People on the inside are now taking advantage of the cut rate now on the river to come out, and there are just as many people on the coast who are desirous of securing cheap rates inward. The cut rates on the Yukon will have the beneficial effect of allowing a large number of Dawson people, who too well endowed with the sturdy good to reach the outside before the winter sets in.

MARINE NOTES.

It is stated that the Yamashima-Marine Factory, Tokyo, has dispatched a number of workmen to Hiroshima to arrange for the raising of the American transport Morgan City, which was wrecked in the inland sea in 1900. It appears that the vessel and everything in her were sold to the Tokyo firm by the vessel's underwriter.

According to the Koshu Chronicle, it is reported that the builders of the Togo Kisen Kaisha steamer America Mata have agreed to pay the damage done by a fire which occurred on the steamer at the Coast wharf, and to rebuild the vessel. The vessel is believed to have been a 12,000-ton steamer from England.

The British ship Celtiburn, Capt. Davidson, 127 days from Table Bay, passed up to Tacoma yesterday morning.

Steamer Boscovitz sails tonight for Northern British Columbia ports.

Collier Wellington passed up yesterday from San Francisco for Ladysmith.

The manager of the Victoria and Vancouver Navigation Company says the Mount Royal will sail from Port Essington on September 10 for Hazelton, the steamer leaving here on the 4th, making good time, and will be back in Victoria the last trip of the season.

H. M. S. Terrible has beaten her coal record established at Hongkong at the end of April last. She has put on board 50 tons of coal in 5 hours and 27 minutes, at Singapore.

The R. M. S. Athenian is scheduled to depart for the Orient next Monday.

The British ship Claverdon, out 183 days from Hamburg for San Francisco, is now posted as missing, and 15 per cent. reinsurance is now quoted on her.

The Scottish Hills, out 91 days from Port Gamble for Port Pirie, with lumber, remains at 55 per cent. at the Norwegian ship Vildanden, 176 days from Tampa for Adelaide, is still at 50 per cent.

Among the recent charters announced is that of the British ship, Lamora, 2,109 tons. She loads at Glasgow and then at Liverpool for Victoria and Vancouver.

Agencies Schorschmidt of the river division of the W. P. & Y. route, states that there has been a larger gross tonnage handled this season by the boats of the company than for any previous season. One reason for this is that the

A MINISTER'S BUSY WIFE.

Pe-ru-na a Prompt and Permanent Cure for Nervousness.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, Galesburg, Ill.

Mrs. Anna B. Fleharty, recent superintendent of the W. O. T. U. headquarters, at Galesburg, Ill., was for ten years one of the leading women there. Her husband, when living, was first President of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, at Lincoln, Neb.

In a letter written from 401 Sixty-Seventh street, W., Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fleharty says the following in regard to Peru-na:

"Having lived a very active life as wife and working partner of a busy minister, my health failed me a few years ago. I lost my husband about the same time, and gradually I seemed to lose health and spirit. My daughter is a confirmed invalid, and we both felt great need of an invigorator.

"One of my neighbors advised me to try Peru-na. A bottle was immediately secured and a great change took place in my daughter's, as well as in my own health. Our appetites improved very greatly, the digestion seemed much helped, and restful sleep soon improved us, so that we seemed like new women.

"I would not be without Peru-na for ten times its cost."—MRS. ANNA B. FLEHARTY.

Peru-na never fails to prevent nervous prostration if taken in time.
